Eating well SARDINIA

A centuries-old land, a mix of simple food and wine traditions with its own character, when it comes to flavours, Sardinia needs no introduction. The abundance of sunshine and unspoilt nature bring unique and genuine flavours to our land and sea products. Close your eyes and start savouring them.

Simple and refined, personality also in the kitchen.

Frue, burrida, civraxiu, fregula, malloreddusu, casizolu, pani frattau, filindeu, tzilicca... No ad hoc preparations to surprise the palate — just simple yet refined notes, with delicate but robust flavors of sea and land, wisely blended. Fragrances of special seasonings, from extra virgin olive oils to wild herbs, enrich every dish. This is a cuisine where ancient gestures and rituals are repeated, celebrating the mastery of traditional cooking while showcasing the artistry of young chefs. They skillfully capture the soul of their land through dishes rooted in memory and history, each one unique to its place of origin.

Constantly changing landscapes and flavors — boredom has no place here

In Carloforte, a coastal town dedicated to the mixing of peoples and cultures, they cook not only the best tuna in the Mediterranean but also an unusual cous cous inherited from the ancient sailors based in Sulcis. Today, it is considered a typical dish of traditional Sardinian cuisine, almost on a par with the popular slow-roasted porceddu of the old-fashioned way. However, there is a Spanish soul in Alghero's fanciful cuisine, so don't leave without trying the prized lobsters cooked 'a la catalana'. A real treat.

WELCOME TO SARDINIA DMC & MICE

Feel free to dive into the most crystalline waters, practice the most extreme sports, travel back in time by visiting places and monuments of a mysterious ancient past, and start exploring on your journey among truly authentic delicacies and flavours.

Discovering culture

Experience firsthand the customs and traditions that are still alive and well, making this island a magical place. From prehistoric times to the present day, Sardinia is home to a wealth of visual and intellectual riches. Its intangible cultural heritage offers unique emotions, not to mention the festivals and festivities that enliven the island with celebrations lasting 12 months of the year.

When the sea united distant peoples and cultures

It is a cradle surrounded by the sea where, eight thousand years ago, a mysterious and original civilization emerged — open to innovations and cultural influences brought by sea from one side of the ancient Mediterranean to the other. The Sardinians built nuraghi along the coasts, with shelters for ships, linked together to control the sea and connected to those built inland. The island's location is strategic, a vibrant crossroads on trade routes frequented by seafaring peoples, including the advanced and peaceful Phoenicians, who made Sardinia their base.

Murals, open-air art galleries

Orgosolo is the town of murals par excellence. With more than 150 works, it is a canvas of emotion, protest, and social demands. Strolling through the narrow streets of this Barbagia village takes you on a journey back in time, capturing the pride of a community that celebrates its personalities and strives to protect its traditions. Every year, many visitors flock to the village to soak in the atmosphere, listen to the singing of the tenors, and explore the beauty of the Supramonte.
